5. Definitions

PAIA means the Promotion of Access to Information Act 2 of 2000.

POPI means the Promotion of Personal Information Act 4 of 2013.

Information Regulator means the Regulator established in terms of section 39 of POPI.

Person means a natural or juristic person.

Private Body means:

- A natural person who carries or has carried on any trade, business or profession, but only in such capacity;
- A partnership which carries or has carried on any trade, business or profession; or
- Any former or existing juristic person, but excludes a public body.

Public Body means:

- Any department of state or administration in the national or provincial sphere or government or any municipality in the local sphere of government; or
- Any other functionary or institution; when:
 - Exercising a power or performing a duty in terms of the Constitution or a provincial institution; or
 - Exercising a public power or performing a public function in terms of any legislation.

Head, in relation to, a private body means:

- In the case of a natural person, that natural person or any person duly authorised by that natural person;
- In the case of a partnership, any partner of the partnership or any person duly authorised by the partnership;
- In the case of a juristic person;
 - The chief executive officer or equivalent officer of the juristic person or any person duly authorised by that officer; or
 - The person who is acting as such or any person duly authorised by such acting person

Information Officer means that head of a private body.

Deputy Information Officer means the person to whom any power or duty conferred or imposed on an Information Officer by POPI has been delegated

Requester in relation to a private body, means any person, including, but not limited to public body or official thereof, making a request for access to a record of the FSP or a person acting on behalf of such person.

Personal Requester means a requester seeking access to a record containing personal information about the Requester

Personal Information means information relating to an identifiable, living, natural person, and where it is applicable, an identifiable, existing juristic person, including, but not limited to: information relating to the race, gender, sex, pregnancy, marital status, national, ethnic or social origin, colour, sexual orientation, age, physical or mental health, well-being, disability, religion, conscience, belief, culture, language and birth of the person; information relating to the education or the medical, financial, criminal or employment history of the person; any identifying number, symbol, email address, physical address, telephone number, location information, online identifier or other particular assignment to the person, the biometric information of the person; the personal opinions, views or preferences of the person; correspondence sent by the person that is implicitly or explicitly of a private or confidential nature or further correspondence that would reveal the contents of the original correspondence; the views or opinions of another individual about the person, and the name of the person if it appears with other personal information relating to the person or if the disclosure of the name itself would reveal information about the person.

Request for access means a request for access to a record of the FSP in terms of Section 50 of PAIA.

Record means any recorded information regardless of the form or medium, in the possession or under the control of the FSP irrespective of whether or not it was created by the FSP.

Data Subject means the person to whom personal information relates.

Third Party in relation to a request for access to a record held by the FSP, means a person other than the requester.

Processing means any operation or activity or any set of operations, whether or not by automatic means, concerning personal information, including the collection, receipt, recording, FSP, collation, storage, updating or modification, retrieval, alteration, consultation or use, dissemination by means of transmission, distribution or making available in any other form, or merging, or linking, as well as restriction, degradation, erasure or destruction of information.

6. Purpose of a PAIA Manual

The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000, gives effect to Section 32 of the Constitution, which provides that everyone has the right to access information held by the State or any other person (or private body), when that information is required for the exercise or protection of any rights.

The purpose of PAIA is to:

- Forster a culture of transparency and accountability in public and private bodies by giving effect to the right of access to information, and to;
- Actively promote a society in which the people of South Africa have effective access to information to enable them to more fully exercise and protect all of their rights.

The FSP recognises everyone's right to access information and is committed to provide access to the FSP's records where the proper procedural requirements as set out by PAIA and POPI have been met.

The FSP's PAIA manual is compiled in accordance with Section 51 of the Act and contains the following provisions:

Annexure A: Contact Details & Business Type
This section provides the FSP's postal and street address, phone and fax number and, if available, the e-mail address of the head of the FSP.
Annexure B: Section 10 PAIA Guide
This section provides a description of the guide referred to in Section 10 of PAIA and how you may obtain access to it.
Annexure C: Statutory Records
This section provides a description of various statutes in terms of which the FSP is required to maintain records.
Annexure D: Availability of Records
This section provides a list of records held by the FSP along with an indication of whether the record is freely available or only accessible by way of a formal request in terms of the provisions of PAIA. The section also provides a description of the category of data subject(s) to whom the respective records relate along with an indication of the purpose for which the record is being kept. Records that are indicated as "Freely available" can be accessed by contacting the Deputy Information Officer (see Annexure A), without having to follow any formal procedures. Records that are indicated as a "PAIA Request", requires the requester to lodge a formal request as provided for in Annexure E.
Annexure E: Request
This section sets out the procedure required to obtain access to a record indicated as a "PAIA Request" in Annexure D.
Annexure F: Prescribed Fees
This section sets out the fees that are payable to the FSP prior to processing a request to obtain access to a record held by the FSP.
Annexure G: Deputy Information Officer Appointment
This section provides for the formal appointment of a Deputy Information Officer where so required.

7. Duties of the Information Officer

The Information Officer and/or the Deputy Information Officer of the FSP are responsible for:

- Publishing and proper communication of the manual;
- The facilitation of any request of access;
- Providing adequate notice and feedback to the requester;
- Determining whether to grant a request for access to a complete/full record or only part of a record;
- Ensuring that access to a record, where so granted, is provided timeously and in the correct format;
- Reviewing the policy for accuracy and communicating any amendments.

7.1 Right of Access

The Information Officer and/or Deputy Information Officer may only provide access to any record held by the FSP to a requester if:

- The record is required for the exercise or protection of any right; and
- The requester complies with the procedural requirements relating to a request for access to that record; and
- Access to that record is not refused in terms of any of the grounds for refusal listed below.

7.2 Grounds for Refusal

The Information Officer and/or Deputy Information Officer must assess whether there are any grounds for refusing a request for access.

Where any grounds for refusal are found, a request for access will not be granted.

However, despite finding any grounds for refusal, access to record(s) will be provided where:

- The disclosure of the record will clearly outweigh the harm contemplated in the provision in question.
- The public interest in disclosing record, will clearly outweigh the harm contemplated in the provision in question.

Where there are no grounds for refusal, request for access will be granted.

If a request for access is made with regards to a record containing information that would justify a ground for refusal, every part of the record which:

- Does not contain; and
- Can reasonably be severed from any part that contains, any such information must, despite any other provision of PAIA, also be disclosed.

The ground for refusal, or absence thereof, are set out below:

7.2.1 Mandatory Protection of privacy of the Third Party who is a Natural Person

Grounds for refusal:

The disclosure would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information about a third party that is a natural person (including a deceased individual)

No Grounds for refusal:

- The record consists of information that concerns an individual who has already consented in writing to its disclosure to the requester concern.
- The record consists of information that is already publicly available.
- The record consists of information that was given to the FSP by the individual to whom it relates and the individual was informed by or on behalf of the FSP, before it is given, that the information belongs to a class of information that would or might be available to the public.
- The record consists of information about an individual's physical or mental health, or well-being, who is under the care of the requester and who is under the age of 18; or incapable of understanding the nature of the request, if giving access would be in the individual's best interest.
- The record consists of information about an individual who is deceased and the requester is the individual's next of kin or making the request with the written consent of the individual's next of kin.
- The record consists of information about an individual who is or was an official of the FSP and which relates to the position or functions of the individual, including, but not limited to the title, work address, work phone number, the classification, salary scale or remuneration and responsibilities of the position held or services performed by the individual and the name of the individual on a record prepared by the individual in the course of employment.

7.2.2 Mandatory Protection of Commercial Information of a Third Party

Grounds for Refusal

- The record consists of information that contains trade secrets of a third party.
- The record consists of information that contains financial, commercial, scientific or technical information, other than trade secrets, of a third party, the disclosure of which would be likely to cause harm to the commercial or financial interests of that party.
- The record consists of information supplied in confidence by a third party, the disclosure which could reasonably be expected to put that third party at a disadvantage in contractual or other negotiations or to prejudice that third party in commercial competition.

No Grounds for Refusal

- The record consists of information about a third party who has already consented in writing to its disclosure to the requester concerned.
- The record consists of information about the results of any product or environment testing or other investigation supplied by a third party or the results of any such testing or investigation carried out by or on behalf of a third party and its discloser would reveal a serious public safety or environmental risk.

7.2.3 Mandatory Protection of certain Confidential Information of a Third Party

Grounds for Refusal

The record consists of information that the disclosure thereof would constitute an action for breach of a duty of confidence owed to a third party in terms of any agreement.

7.2.4 Mandatory Protection of the Safety of Individuals and Protection of Property

Grounds for Refusal

- The record consists of information that if disclosed, could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of any individual.
- The record consists of information that if disclosed would likely prejudice or impair the security of a building, a structure or system, a computer or communication system, a means of transport, or any other property.
- The record consists of information that if disclosed would likely prejudice or impair the security of methods, systems, plans or procedures for the protection of an individual in accordance with a witness protection scheme, the safety of the public, or any part of the public, or the security of property.

7.2.5 Mandatory Protection of Records privileged from Production in Legal Proceedings

Grounds for Refusal

The record consists of information privileged from production in legal proceedings unless the person entitled to the privilege has waived same.

7.2.6 Commercial Information of the FSP

Grounds for Refusal

- The record consists of information that contains trade secrets of the FSP.
- The record consists of information that contains financial, commercial, scientific or technical information, other than trade secrets, of the FSP, the disclosure of which would likely cause harm to the commercial or financial interests of the FSP.
- The record consists of information, the disclosure of which, could reasonably be expected to put the FSP at a disadvantage in contractual or other negotiations or prejudice the FSP in commercial competition.
- The record is a computer program as defined in section 1(1) of the Copyright Act (Act 98 of 1978), owned by the FSP, except insofar as it is required to give access to a record in terms of PAIA

No Grounds for Refusal

The record consists of information about the results of any product or environmental testing or other investigation supplied by the FSP or the results of any such testing or investigation carried out by or on behalf of the FSP and its disclosure would reveal a serious public safety or environmental risk.

7.2.7 Mandatory Protection of Research Information of a Third Party and the FSP

Grounds for Refusal

- The record consists of information that contains information about research being or to be carried out by or on behalf of a third party, the disclosure of which would likely expose the third party, a party that is or will be carrying out the research on behalf of the third party.
- The record consists of information that contains information about research being or to be carried out by or on behalf of the FSP, the disclosure of which would be likely to expose the FSP, a person that is or will be carrying out the research on behalf of the FSP.

7.3 Notice

Where a request for access has been received, the Information Officer and/or Deputy Information Officer will notify the requester of receipt and the prescribed fee (if any) that is payable prior to processing the request. Please refer to Annexure F for a full breakdown of fees payable. Personal requesters will not be charged a request fee.

The notice must state:

- The amount of deposit payable (if any);
- That the requester may lodge a complaint with the Information Regulator or an application with a court against the tender or payment of the request fee, or the tender or payment of a deposit, as the case may be; and
- The procedure (including the period) the lodging the complaint with the Information Regulator or the application.

Except to the extent that the provisions regarding third party notification may apply, the Information Officer and/or Deputy Information Officer to whom the request is made, must as soon as reasonably possible, but in any event within 30 days, after the request has been received in the prescribed format:

- Decide in accordance with PAIA whether to grant the request; and
- Notify the requester of the decision and, if the requester stated that he or she wishes to be informed of the decision in any other manner, inform him or her in that manner, if it is reasonably possible.

If the request for access is granted, the notice must state:

- The access fee (if any) to be paid upon access;
- The form in which access will be given; and
- That the requester may lodge a complaint with the Information Regulator or an application with a court against the access fee to be paid or the form of access granted, and the procedure, including the period allowed, for lodging a complaint with the Information Regulator or the application.

If the request for access is refused, the notice must:

- State adequate reasons for the refusal, including the relevant provision of PAIA that was relied;
- Exclude, from any such reasons, any reference to the content of the records; and
- State that the requester may lodge a complaint with the Information Regulator or an application with a court against the refusal of the request, and the proceeding (including the period) for lodging a complaint with the Information Regulator or the application.

Should all reasonable steps have been taken to find a record requested, and there are reasonable grounds for believing that the record:

- Is the FSP's possession, but cannot be found, or
- Simply does not exist,

The head of the FSP, must be way of affidavit or affirmation, notify the requester that it is not possible to provide access to that record. The affidavit or affirmation must provide a full account of all steps taken to find the record in question or to determine whether the records exist, as the case may be, including all communication with every person who conducted the search on behalf of the head.

Annexure H: Deputy Information Officer Appointment

In terms of the Protection of Personal Information Act the head of a private body is the designated Information Officer for that private body. The Information Officer may delegate any power or duty conferred or imposed in terms of POPI to the Deputy Information Officer.

Prime Meridian Direct (Pty) Ltd has appointed a Deputy Information Officer to facilitate any requests to access records held by the FSP. This delegation does not prohibit the person who made the delegation from exercising power concerned or performing the duty concerned himself. The delegation may at any time be withdrawn or amended in writing by the person who made the delegation.

The Deputy Information Officer has the authority to approach all staff members of the FSP and to request all records held by the FSP. Where a manager is of the opinion that access to a record should not be granted to the Deputy Information Officer, reasons for this decision shall be given to the Information officer who will make the final decision on the matter.

As Head of the FSP, I, Stuart Benfield, hereby appoint Cornelle du Plessis as the FSP's Deputy Information Officer.
